Nashville is Great

We just got back from Nashville. If you've never gone there, it is a fun place to visit. Lots of singers performing in all kinds of venues trying to make it big.

The Grand Ole Opry Mills Mall has been closed since a flood hit in May of 2010. They are planning a grand reopening this spring. The Grand Ole Opry Hotel reopened in November of 2010 after the Cumberland River flood devastated it with about 10 feet of water. That hotel is a must see if you ever get in the area – you can get lost in it. It has beautiful gardens, shops, and restaurants.

Valentine's Day is just around the corner. The grandkids are getting their valentines ready to take to school. February is the only month we do not have any family birthdays so we make up for it with Valentine's candy.

This month we are going to start featuring fun, informative websites and apps. If you have a favorite site or app, e-mail us at info@CleanAmerica.com.

Happy Valentine's Day to everyone.

Recipe of the Month: Stuffed Jumbo Shells

Here's a great recipe that makes a great presentation and is fairly easy to make. It makes about 36 large shells and depending on your appetites can serve about 12 people. Can be frozen and reheated. You can make half for your family and freeze the rest for another meal.

Stuffed Jumbo Shells

1 lb ricotta cheese
 1 lb mozzarella cheese
 1 lb ground meat (lean)
 2 eggs
 1 pkg. jumbo shells cooked al dente.

Mix together first four ingredients and add salt and pepper, small onion cut up or dried minced onions, and garlic powder to taste.

Stuff the shells with the mixture. Put small amount of spaghetti sauce in bottom of baking pan (may need 2 - 9 x 13 baking pans). Place stuffed shells in pan with shell part up. Cover shells with more spaghetti sauce. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes until cheese melts and meat is cooked through.

Optional: Make the shells "Florentine" style and sneak in a veggie for the kids by adding a box of frozen chopped spinach, cooked, and mixing it right into the stuffing!

February is TILE MONTH!

Ceramic tile can add so much beauty to your home. Unfortunately, dirty, stained grout lines can really detract from the overall appearance of the floors. Have you already tried scrubbing the grout lines on your hands and knees? Many of our clients have done that, and don't ever want to do that again! It's a back-breaking job that can only improve the appearance of the grout lines by a small amount. Definitely not worth it!

How can you tell if your grout lines need to be cleaned and sealed? Walk around the room looking at the grout lines. Look carefully at the lines in the center of the room, where everyone walks, then look at the lines along the edges of the room, where people rarely step. If there is a difference in color, you are ready for a cleaning. Grout is an extremely porous substance and when not sealed will absorb everything that comes along, including the dirty water as you wash your floor. All of the spills and water will discolor grout over time. So even though you keep your house clean, your grout lines may be hurting the appearance of the room.

Our procedure involves power washing the whole floor with super heated water. Already we are past the point of what you can do at home. Our water is significantly hotter than the water in your home. Also, the strength of the power wash is something you cannot achieve with a mop.

Once we have thoroughly scrubbed the tiles and grout lines, we have an amazing stain/sealer that will work wonders on your grout lines. We pre-match the color of the stain/sealer to exactly match your grout, or what you want it to look like. Then the sealer is painstakingly applied and tightly seals in the color and seals out all the damaging spills that occur in every home.

With this procedure, your floor will not only look amazing now, but will STAY that way! You will truly love your beautiful floor again.

US Marines Land on Iwo Jima Feb 19, 1945

The Battle of Iwo Jima (Operation Detachment) was a major battle in which the United States fought for and captured the island of Iwo Jima from the Empire of Japan. The US invasion, charged with the mission of capturing the three airfields on Iwo Jima, resulted in some of the fiercest fighting in the Pacific Campaign of WWII.

The Imperial Japanese Army positions on the island were heavily fortified, with a vast network of bunkers, hidden artillery and 11 miles of underground tunnels. The Americans were covered by extensive naval and air support, capable of delivering an enormous amount of firepower onto the Japanese positions. The battle was the first American attack on the Japanese Home Islands and the Imperial soldiers defended their positions tenaciously.

Iwo Jima was also the only US Marine battle where the American overall casualties exceeded the Japanese, although Japanese combat deaths numbered three times that of Americans. Of the more than 18,000 Japanese soldiers present at the beginning of the battle, only 216 were taken prisoner. The rest were killed or missing and presumed dead.

Despite heavy fighting and casualties on both sides, Japanese defeat was assured from the start. The Americans possessed an overwhelming superiority in arms and numbers. This, coupled with the impossibility of Japanese retreat or reinforcement, ensured that there was no plausible scenario in which the US could have lost the battle.

The battle was immortalized by Joe Rosenthal's photograph of the raising of the US flag on top of the 545-foot Mount Suribachi by five Marines and a Naval Corpsman, which took place on the fifth day of the 35-day battle. The picture became the iconic image of the battle and has been heavily reproduced.

Of February 19, 1985, the 40th anniversary of the landings, and event called The Reunion of Honor was held. Veterans of both sides who fought in the battle of Iwo Jima attended the event. The place was the invasion beach where the US forces landed. A memorial, with inscriptions engraved on both sides, was built at the center of the meeting place.

Rugs Need Attention Too...

We spend a lot of time talking about carpet cleaning, and even upholstery cleaning. Reading through our newsletter this month, you will see that we are clearly featuring ceramic tile floors. But what about the rugs?

Many people have loose area rugs in their homes, whether they were a great, inexpensive find, or something that was a major investment. Either way, they need to be cleaned, just like carpets.

Unlike carpets, however, the cleaning procedure doesn't necessarily involve scheduling someone to come into your home and clearing a few hours in your busy schedule.

The best rug cleanings are achieved right here in our plant. We make it very simple for you—just drop it off and we'll do the rest. When it's all done and ready to go, we will call you to come and pick it up at your convenience.

We take good care of your rugs here, with a deep cleaning process to pull out all the dirt that has been hiding way down in the fibers. We will remove the allergens and dust mites, stains and odors, and give you back a rug that will help keep your home and family healthy.

Customer Comments:

"The technician was so nice and courteous. He did a great job on the cleaning of our carpets, plus he was helpful with questions I had on carpet stains. He was knowledgeable and very courteous." Lori W., Broadview Heights

"My carpets look beautiful again. The one in the living room is 41 years old." Gunda K., Parma

Bring Your RUGS in for a Great Cleaning!

Even if you haven't actually been sweeping dirt under your rugs, they still need lots of care and attention so they can continue to add beauty to your home. Our in-plant rug cleaning process removes layers of dirt, dust mites and allergens that get hidden in the delicate fibers. Without regular professional cleanings, those delicate fibers will be destroyed over time by all the oily dirt that clings to the fibers and can't be removed by regular vacuuming.

Bring your rugs to us and we will treat them to a full, intense, deep clean. We are able to remove many different types of stains and odors. You will be happy to put your rug back in your house!

Bring them directly to our plant:

Looking for Apps?

If you have a smart phone, then you may be on the lookout for useful apps. I found that the best way to find apps that are really useful is to ask people what apps they are actually using. When you first get your smart phone, you download a bunch of apps, but after you've had it for awhile, you can see which apps you are still using regularly.

We'll share our favorites with you, and we hope you will share your favorites with us! Send an email to info@CleanAmerica.com with your suggestions.

Simplify your grocery shopping and menu planning with GroceryGadgets.com website and app. The app is $4.99, but you can load up recipes and ingredients, make shopping lists just by clicking on the recipes you'd like to make that week. It saves pricing information, stores, coupons, and more. It even tells you how much you are spending while you shop! I've been using it for over a year, every week, and I'd be lost without it.
